Leaving this for when you have a chance to catch up.
It's apparent that I misread the intro of PAY DENBTS. All I can say is huge lesson learned, painfully so.
Hopefully not at your expense.

Anka killed on US soil by Clinton Operative.

Did you know Anka? Male or female?
I wasn't certain if the man in the picture was the correct person.
(That's because I had a female 'penpal' as a kid, who had the same name. My dad often travelled to Germany for Merchant Marine work when he 'got the call'. She was a friend's daughter, my age.)
>nonetheless, sadly, that's yet another friend fallen.

Not certain even that's correct. Hmm.
On another note, when I first searched the Cyrillic word, it appeared to refer to children a number of times. That, and the photo at Spangdahlem AB, seemed to indicate something maybe E European in nature.
Knowing Clinton history, as well as inb4's on that matter, I simply went with that...'for the children lost'.
It seemed to fit, so I stayed away from 'those' type of Clinton memes, out of respect.
Another example of faulty slidey-senses on my part.

Isn't it always? I wager there's gonna be a lot more of those 'issues' in the following two months.
Money is funney, i sometimes enjoy embarrassing adult people by asking them naive questions about it, like 'is there a limit to which the economy can grow?' and 'where do interests come from?' and watching them give up or even refuse to think about it... Yet people spend their whole lives wage-slaving for it. I'm glad i was raised poor, that way i get to appreciate all the other things in life besides money.

Oh i have a question regarding pic related. I never understood how clones were supposed to work. Like how old is a clone? When is it decided to clone someone? It must be at birth, so the clones are of the same age, but that would require quite some foresight. Are people's lives really planned so far in advance?
